HOSPITAL SHIP SUNK

Australian Ambulance Transport Sent to the Bottom Without Warning.

London, Aug. 6.—The admiralty yesterday announced the torpedoing and sinking by a submarine of the Australian ambulance transport Warilda Saturday. The number of drowned is given at 123.

Two British destroyers were sunk on Friday as a result of striking mines. Ninety-seven men are missing.

At an English Port, Aug. 6.—Eight wounded American soldiers, most of them from Chicago, are among the survivors of the Australian ambulance transport Warilda, torpedoed and sunk without warning at 1 o'clock Saturday. Survivors of the disaster have been landed here. No other Americans are said to have been aboard the Warilda. The vessel was carrying 500 persons, including many nurses, at the time she was sunk. Fourteen were killed or drowned as the result of the explosion. One torpedo was fired. The Warilda was en route from France to England. American and British destroyers hastened to her rescue immediately after she had been struck.

No U-boat was seen. Scores of wounded on the third deck were trapped with their nurses, ladders and foreways being wrecked by the explosion. Heroic efforts to save these victims by means of ropes failed.

Lieut. Huben, of Chicago, said most of the American wounded hailed from that city.

Capt. Beatty, of Quincy, Ill., endeavored to save a "Waco" nurse from the demolished deck of the transport.

At least six women are believed to have been lost in the sinking of the Warilda.

The German socialist organ Vorwarts says: "According to the general opinion at the front, the combat value of the American regiments is not to be despised. They attack regardless of the deadliest perils." Frostburg, Md., is in the midst of a famine, there being no water in the reservoir. The heat is intense and vegetation is suffering greatly.

LOST—On Saturday, July 27, between the Surridge, Theater and South Royal street, a gentleman's scarf pin, setting, cluster of pearls with emerald center. Liberal reward if returned to Gazette Office.

Russia Said to be Upon the Verge of a National Uprising Against Hun Invaders.

Russia is on the verge of a "national" uprising so powerful and general that it will accomplish the incredible," according to French cables quoting Dr. Hans Vorst, regarded as foremost German authority on Russian affairs.

Dr. Vorst, writing in the Berliner Tageblatt, after his return from an extended tour of occupied Russia, declared that "Russia, all classes, is thoroughly tired of the oligarchy of terror and unrestrained instituted by the Soviet government."

"Even among the peasants the discontent is general," Dr. Vorst stated, "but the hatred against Germany is even greater. The war with Germany is not over for Russia. A new government will be formed. It will decree a general mobilization and will drive the enemy out of all territories occupied."

Quoting a Red Guard officer, Dr. Vorst said: "It is Russia that will finish the war. Victory will return to our flag."

"Conversing with a number of people," Dr. Vorst said, "one has a feeling that one is coming into contact with a widespread plot. Even the women in the streets speak in unrestrained tones of hatred against the invader."

Dr. Vorst was sent into Russia as a special investigator by the Berliner Tageblatt and his article has caused a deep concern among the people in Germany.

GERMANS MOST GLOOMY.

Found in Officer's Diary—Prisoner Says War is a Great Massacre.

With the British Army in France, Aug. 6.—Documents of the most significant character, indicating that recent events have brought about an extremely marked state of depression in the German Army, have fallen into the hands of the British. Most significant of all, perhaps, is an extract from a German officer's diary in which he relates he had been asked by the divisional headquarters whether the troops in the line favored peace or a continuation of the war, his answer being: "Immediate peace or an immediate decisive battle."

This entry was dated before the German drive for the Marne began. Hardly less important is a letter taken from a German prisoner. It was written to him by another German stationed along the Marne. It reads:

"You will be in the thick of it now. Shirk as much as you can. Do not be stupid. We are risking our lives only for big victories. Now we are taking the offensive on the Marne and we will never get out of this mess. Our regiment has been nearly wiped out and we have not pushed far. The war is becoming a greater massacre than ever. What is going to happen. I don't know. Germany is slowly crumbling to pieces."

Another prisoner just captured on the British front says that the official figures show that 12,000 of his comrades were made prisoners in the Champagne fighting, but that rumor along this front is that 60,000 Germans and 88 guns were lost.

Adding to the gloom of his division, which realizes that Germany has suffered a great defeat, the prisoner said the food given the men was very poor. He said that poor rations had been especially noticeable for the last three months. The only time that good food is served, he said, is before the Germans are to participate in an offensive.

EIGHT ESTABLISHMENTS

GET CERTIFICATES TO SELL TO SOLDIERS; OTHERS LATER

Only eight certificates had been issued up to the noon hour today by Dr. W. L. Wood, in charge of the United States public health service here, to firms engaged in selling food and drink, permitting them to sell to soldiers from Camp Humphreys, Va. Dr. Wood, however, stated that he expected that others, desiring certificates soon would comply with the rules and regulations laid down in order to get them. The sanitation work here now in progress, he says is most satisfactory.

FRENCH MAKE PROGRESS

German Raid Near Montdidier Results in Taking of Boche Prisoners.

Paris, Aug. 6. (noon).—Allied troops are maintaining their positions on the north bank of the Vesle despite German efforts to eject them, the war office announced today.

"French troops again advanced north of Montdidier, occupying the west bank of the Vesle on the three-mile front between Morisel and Braches.

"North of Montdidier the French progressed to the Vesle, which they now hold between Braches and Morisel.

(Braches is six miles north and west of Braches and across the river from the important town of Moreuil.) "A German raid southeast of Montdidier failed and we took prisoners.

"On the Vesle front the French maintained elements at several points on the north bank, in spite of German attempts to eject them."

London, Aug. 6.—Since the Germans began their retreat from the Marne, the allies have captured a thousand guns, thousands of machine guns, and millions of rounds of artillery ammunition, agency dispatches received here from the front report.

CONFEDERATE VETERANS PLAN DISPOSITION OF HOME

R. E. Lee Camp, Confederate Veterans, at its monthly meeting held last night, adopted a committee's report providing for the disposition of its handsome home and clubrooms after that organization shall cease to exist. At the present time this camp has on its roster only a small number in excess of fifty-two.

SPAIN HEARS THE TRUTH.

War Correspondent Tells of Magnitude of American Effort.

Washington, D. C., Aug. 6.—All Spain is being stirred by a series of articles, dealing with the magnitude of American effort in the war appearing in "A B C" the strongly pro-German newspaper, according to a cable received yesterday by the Committee on Public Information from its representative in Madrid.

The articles are contributed by Joe Martinez Rinz, novelist and literary critic, who is the first Spanish writer to visit the American front. Only his present literary position has influenced the paper to publish the articles, says the dispatch, and the writer is being violently attacked by other pro-German papers.

Rinz, who uses the pen name "Asorin," has declared, according to the dispatch, that he will use the full strength of his pen to make his country "know the truth about the United States," He added:

"In 1898 we suffered a disastrous disillusionment because of our own ignorance. It shall not occur again if I can prevent it. The future of Spain is bound up with the future of America and this truth must be recognized."

PARIS BOMBARDED AGAIN.

More Than Once It Has Heralded Hun Offensive.

Paris, Aug. 6.—The long range bombardment of the Paris region was resumed yesterday morning.

In more than one instance during the last few months, the opening of a renewed period of long range shelling of Paris has been the signal for a German offensive movement. The original bombardment began March 23, just as the first German offensive in Picardy was getting into swing. Likewise the start of the recent offensive on the Marne front was accompanied by a resumption of the shelling of Paris, beginning on July 15, after an interval of more than a month. The firing ceased the day following and was not resumed until today.

Meanwhile the advancing Allies on the Aisne-Marne front had uncovered two emplacements for the long range weapons. Whether these emplacements had ever been used is a matter of doubt. At any rate the guns were not there when the Allies arrived. It seems not improbable that if they had been transferred to the Marne salient or were on their way there, they have now been removed to their original location in the forest of St. Gobain, near Laon, where they are safe from any immediate advance by the Allies.

RETREATING GERMANS

Wants 25,000 Members

This Number of Men, Women and Children Asked to Become Contributors Members to State Council of Defense.

Richmond, Va. August 6.—Twenty-five thousand men, women and children of the Old Dominion are asked to become members of the State Council of Defense in the capacity of contributing members. The Council of Defense is the one body that has general supervision of all war activities—the production of food, the conservation of food and fuel, the practice of all economies which mean with every step a blow at kaiserism and the atrocities of the Huns. It means that every person in the state can in this way have a part in the war and do something to help in the great struggle. Even the contribution of a dollar by children will help; every dollar given is a bullet for the Germans; it may fire the shot that will prevent injury, possibly death, to the man from the individual home.

There is much work to be done: Communications must be constantly sent to the county and city councils of defense, the press must be kept informed, loyalty investigations must be made, speaking campaigns must be financed. Properly to conduct these departments of work, separate bureaus will have to be established, and while a part of the work will be accomplished by volunteers whose only cost to the state council will be their traveling expenses, yet the total will be large and the state's appropriation must be supplemented if a complete organization is to be effected in Virginia. There is an additional reason for this campaign for membership.

"Where a man's treasure is, there will his heart be also," and the people of Virginia who become contributing members to the Council of Defense will watch its activities eagerly and take a deeper and more vital and personal interest in its workings than if it were merely a part of the state machinery in which the individual Virginian had no share.

TWO U-BOATS OFF COAST.

One off Virginia And Other in Canadian Waters.

Washington, Aug. 6.—German submarines now are operating at two widely separated points along the Atlantic seaboard—one in the important sea lane off the Virginia coast, where the American tank steamer C. B. Jennings was sunk Sunday, and the other in Canadian waters, where fishing smacks and other craft have been destroyed.

Presence of another raider in the waters off the Middle Atlantic coast, where in May and June upwards of 20 vessels were sunk, became known today when the Navy Department announced the sinking of the Jennings and the landing of from 30 to 32 members of the crew at Norfolk by an American patrol boat. A second small boat from the tanker with the captain and 13 men is missing. But as the weather has been good, officials confidently hope it will be picked up.

Full details of the sinking of the Jennings were lacking last night, but from the fact that the steamer sent a wireless message saying she was being shelled and asking for assistance, officials assumed that the submarine opened fire without giving the crew time to take to the boats, though there was the possibility that the steamer had undertaken to make a run for safety. Patrol boats answered the radio calls, but neither the Jennings nor the submarine was in sight when they arrived Sunday night at the position given by the steamer. Later survivors were found.

SERIOUS CHARGE MADE

George O. Faulkner Held In Washington For Authorities Here on Complaint of His Sixteen-Year-Old Daughter.

George O. Faulkner, forty-nine years old, who lives at 206 Queen street, this city, was arrested in Washington last night by Detective O'Dea and Sgt. Scott, the latter of this city, and is now held for the Virginia authorities.

Faulkner was arrested on a warrant sworn out by his sixteen-year-old daughter, Lillian, charging the father with a serious offense.

Inspector Grant decided to detain Faulkner pending requisition papers. However, it is understood that he will be turned over without the formality of such papers and taken to the Alexandria county jail at Fort Myer Heights, where he will be kept until he is given a preliminary hearing in the police court before Justice Thompson. The alleged offense occurred July 25.

It was not until Sunday last that a complaint was made against the husband and father when Miss Faulkner accompanied by her mother, went to police headquarters and told her story to the police and afterward to Justice Thompson. On the young woman's story Justice Thompson issued the warrant for the arrest of the father and the latter was captured in Washington last night near Twelfth street and Pennsylvania avenue and taken to the First precinct station, where he is being held.

Faulkner is employed at a shipbuilding plant here. He came to this city four weeks ago from Savannah, Ga. His family consists of his wife, a son and daughter. The couple was married seventeen years ago at Branchville, S. C., and Faulkner is a native of Edgeville, S. C., although he left that town when seven years of age, his wife stated today.

Mrs. Faulkner said this morning that the reason complaint was not made against the father previous to Sunday was that the daughter did not make complaint to her until last Sunday, when she told of having been threatened by the father if she told what had happened.

It is understood that the father denies the charge made against him.

BASIS FOR FOURTH LIBERTY LOAN ANNOUNCED.

The fourth Liberty Loan campaign will begin September 28 and close October 19. The amount of the loan and its terms will be announced later by the Secretary of the Treasury. The Treasury Department will apportion the loan to the Federal reserve districts.

The basis of apportionment will be bank resources as heretofore, which will likewise be the basis upon which the allotment to this district will be apportioned to each banking institution. The resources of the bank of the district will be taken from their report as of December 31, 1917, that being the latest date on which reports of all banks are available.

Upon announcement of the amount of the loan, or as soon thereafter as practicable, a tabulation will be made and forwarded to every banking institution in the district.

The foregoing announcement has just been made by the Federal Reserve Bank of Richmond.

DRAFT AGE TO EXPAND

Bills Introduced in Congress Will Consist Men From 18 to 45—Quick Action on Measure Expected.

The War Department's new manpower bill, to call into the military service of the nation all men between the ages of 18 and 45, was introduced in both houses of Congress yesterday. Senator Chamberlain and Representative Dent, respectively, chairman of the Senate and House Committees on Military Affairs, presented the draft of the bill as soon as the Houses were called to order, and the bill went to the committees of which they are chairmen. Early action on the bill is looked for in each House. Senator Chamberlain has called his committee to meet this morning to give the first hearing to the measure. It is not believed the committee will take much time to consider it.

TODAY'S PRIMARY

Big Vote Being Polled Despite Warm Weather—Carlin Will Prove an Easy Winner in Every County in This District.

A big vote is being polled here today in the Democratic primary for the purpose of nominating a candidate for the House of Representatives from the Eighth district despite the torrid weather conditions. From the time the four voting places opened this morning at 6:13 o'clock the election officials were kept busy, many persons preferring to vote early in the day on account of the warm weather rather than later, and in this they certainly showed good judgment.

The candidates being voted on today are Representative Charles C. Carlin, this city, who is being opposed by E. B. White, Loudoun county, and H. Earleton Hanes, Herndon, Fairfax county.

All that one had to do was to stand around the polls early this morning to find how Carlin stood. Almost every vote cast was a Carlin vote and the White supporters appeared downcast. They early in the day threw up the sponge, realizing that their efforts were without fruit. As the day wore on the Carlin strength in each ward became more and more apparent and when the polls close at 8:15 o'clock tonight, Alexandria once more will have done herself proud by rolling up a great big majority for her able representative in Congress, C. C. Carlin.

Representative Carlin today received telegrams from his supporters in every county telling him that they were certain that in their respective counties he would prove an easy winner.

The primary here has been quiet throughout. Friends of Mr. Carlin were around the polls during the day and were kept busy bringing voters to and from the polls in automobiles and other conveyances.

Despite the fact that a good sized vote had been polled up to the time The Gazette went to press it is believed that the vote which will be cast from now until the hour of closing which is 8:15 o'clock also will be heavy. Many persons who had to leave the city early this morning will not cast their ballot until this evening. The "workers" around the polls, therefore, will be kept busy from now until the hour of closing.

If you have not yet voted don't forget that you have until 8:15 o'clock tonight to go to the polls and cast your ballot for Representative Carlin.

Nine hundred and thirty-five votes had been polled up to 9 o'clock this afternoon. The indications are that the grand total will be in the neighborhood of 1,600 when the polls close tonight at 8:15 o'clock.

The vote polled by wards up to that hour follows:

First..... 206

Second..... 297

Third..... 220

Fourth..... 272

K. OF C. POSSESSES

$8,500,000 IN CASH.

The Knights of Columbus had on hand on June 30 $8,500,000, according to a report of William J. McGinley, supreme secretary and director of the organization's war work in this country, at the "victory convention" held at the Waldorf Astoria Hotel in New York.

This fund is exclusive of the money collected in special funds, and shows an increase of more than $1,000,000 during the past year. The organization's membership shows an increase of 26,924.

During the year collections amounted to $2,558,398.89, not including war funds.

In his report Mr. McGinley referred to the war activities of the knights during the year, July 1, 1917, to June 30, 1918. Since the beginning of the year $376,543.84 has been spent in camp operations. General overseas expenses have amounted to $10,776.10.

AFTER GROCERYMEN.

One of the United States health officers who is associated with the State Board of Health yesterday visited grocery stores in this city and gave proprietors until Thursday to bring about more satisfactory conditions in their places of business. They did not find in some places the sanitary precautions which the law demands, and other visits will be made during the latter part of the week and wherever it may be shown the orders have not been complied with, delinquents will be made to close their stores.

The sanitary laws of the state make it imperative upon the part of storekeepers to keep articles of food under netting and to place everything eatable in places where flies cannot enter. Only sound articles of food are allowed to be offered for sale, and the penalty is severe in cases where willful violations of the law are proven.

During the past few years Julius Graham, of Hillsboro, Loudoun county, one of the attaches of the pure food department of the state, made frequent visits to Alexandria, entering most of the stores for the purpose of making personal examination of conditions. He found many things which were unlawful, but he merely warned the proprietors of consequence of delay to conform to the law. The delinquent storekeepers promised to institute reforms, but, as Mr. Graham could not remain in Alexandria, but little attention was paid to his orders.

Storekeepers who may allow unsanitary conditions at their places of business are now confronting the government of the United States, and more drastic action than that pursued by Mr. Graham may be expected should no improvements be found at the close of the week.

As was stated yesterday, the ban against Alexandria which was placed upon our city a month ago by the commander at Camp Humphreys has been partially removed, by the issuance to restaurateurs of cards announcing that they had complied with all health regulations. Soldiers from that place can now eat and drink in our city without let or hindrance. As soon as the proprietors of lunch houses and other places where food and refreshments are furnished comply with regulations clean bills will be given them, and within the next few days normal conditions will prevail in Alexandria.

SLEEPS UNDER BLANKETS.

While in the city of their birth people are sweltering under an August sun and sleep is rendered impossible by the torrid conditions which prevail, the young Alexandrians summoned to the colors last week and who are now quartered at Syracuse, N. Y., are enjoying cool nights, so much so that two blankets are used upon the cots nightly.

One of the embryonic soldiers sent a long letter to the members of his family yesterday, in which the writer says he and his companions are having a good time—practically nothing to do, so far, and plenty to eat.

He says the camp is situated on Lake Onondaga, but that the medical authorities refuse to allow the boys to take baths in the same, it not being deemed sanitary.

The Alexandria boys left their home city on Monday, July 29. The trip is described as pleasant, most of the boys never having previously been far from home. The train passed through many large cities before reaching its objective.

The Alexandrians are loud in their praises of the officers of the camp, who they describe as kind and considerate.

In reading such descriptions of experience on the part of American youths who have been selected for army service, naturally contrasts are drawn between those in other countries who are conscripted for military service. In some countries sergeants with several soldiers enter homes where members of families are seated at supper tables and take boys they deem strong enough to bear arms. They are placed in box cars and carried away, leaving their relatives ignorant of their whereabouts, sometimes for years.

FORCE, FALSEHOOD, FRAUD.

The expose during the past four years of German cruelty and rascality affords ghastly reading matter not only to the present generation, but it will form the basis for volumes which millions yet unborn will read with horror.

Pamphlets published by officials of our country showing the aims and practices of the Huns are appalling to the civilized portions of the world. Moved and animated by the spirit of Frederick the Great, they are ready and anxious to practice falsehood and fraud and use force in order to trample down civilization.

No respect is shown old or young, nor the wounded and helpless, and the fiendishness of the Teutons grows more intense as the shadow of defeat stretches across their path.

The sinking of the hospital steamer Warilda, loaded with wounded and helpless soldiers, hospital nurses and other non-combatants is reported today. One hundred and twenty-nine of those aboard the ship are missing.

The steamer was attacked by a German submarine without warning and the commander seems to have been carrying out his orders, "Leave no trace."

The bloody Hun is now dragging his slow length along as British, French, American, Portuguese and others of the allies, fired by just indignation, are pressing him from the territory he has looted during the past four years. With all his arrogance he is retreating before those who are at his heels.

A silly young man known as the Crown Prince who is minus military or any other genius, is the figurehead of this army of scoundrels. It will be remembered that this offspring of a modern Nero several years ago said to some of his acquaintances: "Wait until I become Emperor! I'll have a war just for the fun of it!" Defeated and forced back, he should by this time realize that there's but little fun in war. Millions will rise up in the resurrection and condemn those who started and are continuing this frightful war.

GRIPPE KILLS HUNDREDS.

Many Deaths in England. Austria Suffers Hardest. Called "Flu."

London, Aug. 6.—Influenza—"Spanish Flu," as it is called—is spreading throughout Europe.

In London alone there have been more than 600 deaths from the disease in less than two months. One week in July the deaths in London reached 287. Quinine queues are common sights.

The Fourth and Sixth German armies were out of the fighting for weeks with the disease and great "flu camps" have been established in Belgium and France, where the Germans were sent to receive treatment and to prevent the disease from spreading through the Hun armies.

Many deaths occurred in these two German armies and other German units. Few cases have been reported so far among the allied armies in France, but the civilian population of France is suffering greatly, as are the people of Spain and Portugal.

In Britain the disease is not confined to London. The country districts and other cities suffer greatly. In Leeds, Manchester, Herts, Egham, Sheffield and Birmingham certain schools and factories have been closed.

Perhaps the greatest toll, if reports are to be believed, is being taken by the epidemic in Austria, also victim of cholera and diseases arising from malnutrition. The number of cases in Austria is reported to be reckoned in thousands.

Spanish "flu" in its symptoms is much like what the Americans call gripple. But it is more severe and often fatal.

In Russia both Spanish "flu" and cholera have claimed hundreds of victims and are spreading.

AUSTRALIA HAS WHEAT

Enough of Last Year's Crop on Hand to Feed This Country

"There is enough wheat stored in Australia to feed the entire population of the United States for six months," asserted Norman S. H. Catts, of Sydney, secretary of the Advertising Men's Institute of New South Wales, in a luncheon address before the Poor Richard Club, Philadelphia, yesterday. Mr. Catts is in the United States on a mission for the government of New South Wales to investigate the facilities offered for business instruction, and particularly in universities, high schools and extension courses in the United States.

Problems of the storage of the enormous wheat yields of Australia, and of transportation for it now are engaging the best brains of Australia, according to Mr. Catts. He said that there are still 300,000,000 bushels of last year's harvest untouched in the Antipodean continent; and that the new crop now almost ready for harvesting is estimated at more than 200,000,000 bushels. In an entertaining fashion, he described the methods employed by Australians to exterminate the weevil plague and the plague of rats and mice which made considerable inroads on the primitively stored heaps of grain bags.

He also detailed possibilities for the extension of trading relations between Australia and the United States. Australia's principal need he declared to be machinery, particularly textile machinery to take care of her huge wool clip, which amounts to 600,000,000 pounds a year, all of which, except about 4 per cent, is exported.

FATHER AND SON KILLED.

Two Daughters Perhaps Fatally Hurt When Car Bumps Auto.

California, Pa., Aug. 6.—Father and son were instantly killed and two daughters were severely injured late yesterday afternoon when an automobile in which they were riding was struck by a Pittsburgh-bound Charleroi car at the Vista-Allenport crossing. The party was on the way home from Charleroi to California.

The dead are Robert McCollum, 50 years old, legs and arms broken and horribly mangled, and Roy McCollum, 14, his son, body mangled. The injured are Bessie McCollum, 20, daughter, internally injured; Ethel McCollum, 17, daughter, probably internally injured. They were taken to the California-Monessen Hospital.

The car, which was traveling at high speed, struck the front of the auto and dragged it 50 feet before the motorcar could bring the car to a stop. The occupants were thrown from the machine in front of the car and were crushed beneath the wreckage. The machine was completely demolished.

It is believed that the father, who was driving the car, failed to hear the car approaching and crossed the track directly in front of it. The boy was riding in the front seat with his father and the girls behind. A late report from the hospital indicates little hope for the daughters' recovery.

RAN INTO HORNET'S NEST.

British Decoy Ship Sends U-Boat to Bottom After Five Hour Fight.

A thrilling story of a fight between a British decoy ship and a German submarine was told by Sir Eric Geddes, First Lord of the Admiralty, at a weekly concert held for the American troops at the Palace Theatre Sunday night. He explained that the Germans now know about the ruse, and it is needless to withhold the story longer. The decoy, known as "950," had the appearance of a dingy old collier, with an undisciplined-looking crew, which was suitably attired, he said. This ship sailed into the Atlantic with the necessary orders and finally sighted a German submarine. The decoy turned and ran away, but the submarine overhauled her and opened fire. Some of the German shells fell on the decoy's deck and members of the crew were wounded and killed. The flight of the decoy continued, and she signalled for help.

An hour and a half later the submarine drew nearer. In the meantime the decoy's decks had been set on fire and the captain knew that her magazine would soon explode. In fact, the explosion came in a short time and sent one of her guns hurtling through the air. The submarine had now swung around in front of the decoy. The tail of the latter signalled to a man of war, which had been keeping below the horizon, and then unmasked the forward gun at the decoy and heavily shelled the submarine. One projectile tore away the enemy's conning tower and another hit her in the hull. She sank after the fight had lasted for five hours.

The warships which had been keeping out of sight, hurried up and rescued the crew of the decoy.

"There's no longer any need of secrecy," concluded Sir Eric. "Admiral Sigsbee and I have more ways than one of trapping submarines."

SURE TO COME—
WHY NOT NOW?
(By Karl W. Kessler of 'The Vigilantes')

Within two years after peace has been declared the universal compulsory military training bill will take its place on the statute books of the United States. This is as certain as the ultimate triumph of right over might in the present war.

Germany, had she not been reasonably certain that it would take the United States many months to get fighters to the trenches, would never have played her hand so boldly—would have been more reluctant to stir America to action.

It is silly to say that civilized peoples will not war with each other. We would frown upon the statement that accidents never happen. A perfect lady is apt to do some unladylike thing if sufficiently aroused. And a civilized world is apt to do some uncivilized thing when the waters become troubled.

Those who say that posterity will get a lesson from this war are right—but it will be from histories. Posterity will never know the tragedy of Today as we know it. So we can't figure too strongly on the benefits posterity will get from knowing about the Great World War. Posterity may go along without a war, and again it may push aside our histories and our admonitions and go to battle to suffer and die for what it believes is right.

We can't regulate posterity; we can only take our lesson as we get it now and by doing the logical thing prepare for posterity some tangible instrument of warfare AGAINST warfare.

Our police—we send them out on their beats armed with guns and clubs. What for? Does their armament invite battle? Doesn't it in nearly every instance AVERT it?

We expect to have millions of soldiers in Europe before very long. These boys will learn many things that most of them will remember and bring back with them when they come home again. What do you think will be their most vital message? Don't you think it will be something like this:

"We licked 'em, all right, and we licked 'em brown, but we'd have done it quicker and they wouldn't have killed so many women and babies if we had got there sooner! It's up to Uncle Sam now to prepare his young fellows for future cusses like the Kaiser. If we are strong enough no one will want to tempt us to fight 'em. If we go on and forget how to fight, some big bully will spring up and knock us down—just as easy as fallin' off a log!"

These boys of ours are coming back and they are coming before so very long. And when they go to the polls to cast their votes they are going to vote for candidates who favor military training for the nation.

America needs military training, not for war but for PEACE! Knowing how to fight does not mean that we will fight, but it does mean that if we are compelled to fight, as we were compelled in the present war, we will fight efficiently, gloriously, victoriously!

Military training for our young men will clear pool-rooms of shiftless boys, will put young men on a common footing when they start life. It will add to their health, quicken their intellect. There will be fewer vagrants, fewer criminals.

Nothing that we can do for future generations will help so wonderfully as the passage of the universal military training law. It will result in a better type of manhood, it will straighten the carriage, brighten the eyes, harden the muscles, strengthen the intellect, and fire ambition.

PAPER MILLS ESSENTIAL.

Federal Order Places Rigid Restrictions on Newspapers.

Washington, D. C., Aug. 6.—Paper mills have been listed as an essential industry, the priorities division of the War Industries Board announced yesterday on the understanding that the greatest possible economy will be exercised in the use of paper, and that newspapers will reduce their consumption of news print 15 per cent. on daily editions and 20 per cent. on Sunday editions.

Advertising will not be affected by the curtailment on newspaper consumption. Reading matter for the purposes of reducing space is defined by the agreement as consisting of all matter printed except paid advertisements. The schedules of curtailment are based upon a standard column of 300 agate lines.

Because of the "absolute necessity of curtailing the use of paper," says the statement, "the pulp and paper section of the War Industries Board has ruled that during the war no newspaper shall be established."

With the exception that the curtailment of daily editions becomes effective August 12 instead of August 5, the recommendations of the committee of the American Newspaper Publishers' Association, made public July 20, are accepted by the War Industries Board. The curtailment of 20 per cent of Sunday editions becomes effective September 1.

The sliding scale of reductions in reading matter for daily and Sunday editions range from 5 per cent. up to 50 columns, to 60 per cent. on more than 350 columns.

Paper mills will be dealt with individually in the granting of coal priorities and will be given preference on fuel on condition that they sign pledges to furnish no paper to any consumer unless he sign a pledge in duplicate that the greatest possible economy in the use of paper and to observe all the regulations of the War Industries Board.

If by October 1, the board announces, the agreed curtailments have not been accomplished, additional curtailments will be put into effect, on that date.

CHARGED WITH REBATING.

Pennsylvania Railroad, Armour & Co., And Swift & Co. Indicted.

New York, Aug. 6.—Charged with conspiracy in allowing and accepting over a five-year period, rebates on freight charges of livestock shipments, the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, Armour & Company, Swift & Company and the Jersey City Stockyards Company were indicted by a Federal Grand Jury yesterday. The offenses are alleged to have been committed between November, 1912 and December, 1917.

The Jersey City Stockyards Company, according to the indictments, was created by the Armour and Swift interests, owned by them and incorporated in Delaware.

The subsidiary concern, it is charged, leased from the Pennsylvania Railroad yards in Jersey City, enabling the packing companies to route shipments to New York from Western points over the Pennsylvania lines and thus benefit by the concessions and discriminations in rates mentioned in the indictments. These yards, it is alleged were obtained for a sum less than one-fourth their rental value.

The rebates claimed of the Federal charges state, were on shipments from Chicago, Kansas City, Louisville and other locations of Armour and Swift dressing stations.

WAS TOO BUSY PREACHING.

Evangelist Miner's Wife Gets Divorce for Nonsupport.

Pittsburg, Kan., Aug. 6.—Evidence that her husband, James A. Schooley, found the call of the pulpit, stronger than that of the coal miner's pick, won Mrs. Emma Schooley of Arma, a divorce in District Court here.

She testified that Schooley spent so much time at evangelistic and pastoral work that his earnings as a miner were not enough to support her and her daughter.

She said he once went away from home for several days on a preaching engagement, leaving only a can of corn for their food supply.

MRS. WILSON CHRISTENS SHIP.

First Launching at Hog Island Marks Epoch in U-Boat War.

Philadelphia, Aug. 6.—America yesterday began to replace the tonnage sunk by German submarines in the days before the allied shipyards had reached a production equal to the toll of the U-boats.

With the launching of the 4,500 ton Quistconck, sponsored by Mrs. Woodrow Wilson, President Wilson and a notable gathering being spectators, the stage of quantity production of ships was reached in the building program of the United States. From this time forward, the increasing output of vessels will not merely offset the naval efforts of Germany, but will steadily make up the deficiency in world tonnage.

The Quistconck is the first ship to be launched from the great Hog Island Shipyard, and the occasion was made worthy of the "epoch in the nation's history" which Chairman Hurley, of the Shipping Board, declared it marked. The men who built the ship and the men who directed their work mingled in comradely spirit with government officials while the presence of the chief executive and his family was the source of unending enthusiasm.

"George Graham Rice" Indicted on Fraud Charge.

New York, Aug. 6.—Jacob Simon Herzog, who under the name of Geo. Graham Rice, is said to have done a stock brokerage business of $10,000,000 during the past year, was indicted yesterday by a Federal grand jury on a charge of using the mails to defraud. Herzog had previously been indicted by a county grand jury on five charges of grand larceny.

The latest indictment contains sixteen counts and alleges eight acts of receiving money from investors for stocks he never bought. James W. Osborne, "second assistant" United States Attorney in charge of the Federal case, said there were a hundred complaints against the defendant. Herzog was arrested last week and is under $22,500 bail.

Arraigned yesterday on the earlier charges Herzog pleaded not guilty, to failing to deliver $1,600 worth of stock to a customer. His lawyer said he was in correspondence with more than 54,000 persons all over the country and urged a reduction of bail but the court deferred action.

Commend Sunday Farm Work.

Judges in Tennessee have refused to punish persons accused of work on farms on Sundays, but have commended them for so doing. This was reported to the Department of Agriculture's recent farm labor conference in Birmingham, Ala. Not long ago the rural churches of Indiana, in a conference at Purdue University, took the position that it is quite right and proper to do farm work on Sunday if that Sunday work is necessary to produce food crops to help whip Germany.

Government Ships Fish by Carloads.

Carloads of fish are being shipped regularly each week from the Gulf of Mexico to Nashville, Louisville, and Indianapolis in order to provide those inland cities with fresh fish at low prices. Transportation is being taken care of by an agent of the United States Department of Agriculture working with the Railroad Administration. The distribution of the fish is under the direction of the Federal food administrators of the State and cities in cooperation with the United States Bureau of Fisheries. Plans for extending this service to other cities are now being made.

VIRGINIA NEWS

Harry King, Jr., is dead, Randolph Saum and Russel Byrd slightly injured and Elmer Washington, colored, is in jail in Harrisonburg as the result of an automobile accident on Burkettown hill, near Burkettown, early Sunday morning. The car was one operated by the Kavanaugh Line, running between this place and Staunton, and was driven by Washington. According to the witnesses the front wheel on the right side of the car collapsed, causing the rear end of the car to swerve and hit a tree, throwing King from the car. King died from a skull fracture. He was a son of Harry King, of Staunton, and was 31 years old. He is survived by his wife and a small child.

Approximately 2,500 men employed on construction work at Langley aviation field, near Newport News, have walked out, following the announcement by the J. G. White Construction Company that free board would no longer be given them.

A WORD WITH WOMEN

Valuable Advice for Alexandria Readers. Many a woman endures with noble patience the daily misery of backache, pains about the hips, blue, nervous spells, dizziness and urinary disorders, hopeless of relief because she doesn't know what is the matter.

It is not true that every pain in the back or hips is trouble "peculiar to the sex." Often when the kidneys get congested and inflamed, such aches and pains follow. Then help the weakened kidneys. Don't expect them to get well alone.

Doan's Kidney Pills have won the praise of thousands of women. They are endorsed at home—Read this Alexandria woman's convincing statement:

"Mrs. Milton Moor, 123 Duke street, says: 'Doan's Kidney Pills are a household medicine for kidney trouble in our family. I have taken them on several occasions for backache and other kidney disorders with every beneficial result. I am quite sure Doan's will help anybody who gives them a good trial. I know they are a medicine of merit.'

Price 60c at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Moor had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y.

NEWS OF THE DAY.

The hopes of Austrian leaders are fast dwindling as reports of the German defeat come from every side. The situation is made even more desperate by the fact that the governments of the central powers have no means of bolstering up the weakening morale of their peoples. Instead they are forced to call upon them to endure further food restrictions.

Five tons of coal for the ordinary six-room house for one year. That's how England is going to save fuel this winter—because coal is the power behind every gun and every man at the front and the more that's saved at home the more men and the more guns and the more shells there will be to finish the Kaiser. The rations for 1918-19 are announced in the new household fuel and lighting order just made public.

Allied military strategists in Washington are convinced that the German army is in a state of confusion bordering upon demoralization. Careful calculations of the number of transport trains, men and ordnance which the Germans have been forced to move over restricted routes of egress in the past ten days give every reason to believe that the crown prince forces a herculean task in re-organizing his battered and scattered divisions.

Some officials in Washington believe the present raid to be the expiring effort of the German admiralty, which intended to terrorize shipping and cities along the Atlantic. They base their belief on trustworthy reports to the effect that Germany's submarine losses prevent any action on a large scale, and permit only spasmodic raids undertaken with the sole hope of but a single "big catch."

Two or more hostile submarines are lurking in Atlantic coastal waters. Secretary Daniels yesterday declared this was the belief of Navy Department officials. They are of the opinion, he added, that at least two, and possibly three, U-boats are off our coast.

"Hold fast" is the message of Premier Lloyd George to the people of the British Empire on the fourth anniversary of Great Britain's entry into the war. "Our prospects of victory have never been so bright as they are today," says the prime minister.

Your Winter's Coal Supply

On account of rulings of the U. S. Fuel Administration, it seems doubtful if Virginia will receive sufficient anthracite coal to supply the demands. If present rulings are maintained, this shortage will be very great in Alexandria and we earnestly advise our customers to put in a reasonable amount of bituminous coal as a safeguard against a coal shortage next winter.

We are now securing some very fine bituminous coal which we believe will work in all characters of coal burners but the ratrobe stoves.
